Innovation Plan Summary

This INN Plan consists of five work plans:

- 1) Positive Behavioral Intervention Supports: integration of community/public health services with a systems-focused approach to increase children and youth's mental health and school success
- 2) Juvenile Sex Offender Response Team (JSORT): a coordinated county-wide approach to improving mental health outcomes for juvenile sex offenders (JSO)
- 3) Alternative Healing and Promotores de Salud: development of effective prevention, early intervention, and intensive treatment strategies that address the needs of Latinos in Monterey County, including a curriculum and cross-training program developed jointly by Promotores and clinical staff
- 4) Mental Health Evaluation Model, Outcome Data, and Reporting Plan: an evaluation model to measure consumer utilization, service disparities, program fidelity, integration with community partners, and Children and Adult systems transformations resulting from Mental Health Services Act initiatives
- 5) Transition Age Youth Housing – A New Approach: a youth-directed service approach that adapts the Transition to Independence (TIP) Model for services to young adults living in permanent supportive housing
