Stanislaus County is requesting $2,494,898.00 dollars for 2, three-year Innovative Programs titled:

- Wisdom Transformation Initiative (WTI)
- Garden Gate Innovative Respite Project (GGIRP)

The aim of WTI is to promote interagency and community collaboration by supporting transformation and learning among the six largest non-profit and community based organizations to provide behavioral health services and supports to some of the county's most vulnerable individuals and families at risk and affected by serious mental illness.

The aim of GGIRP is to increase the quality of services, including better outcomes, by developing and testing a consumer and family-centered approach to short-term crisis respite housing and peer support for individuals and their families who are at risk for psychiatric hospitalization.
