

Nationwide Mental Health Prevention Indicators: Literature Review and Synopsis of Results

Title	Author(s)	Summary of Study	Type of Indicator (s)
1. Towards a System of Outcome Indicators for Mental Health Care	Rachel Jenkins (1990)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Article discusses the pros and cons of available outcome indicators used at the time in Canada to measure health and mental health care, with the goal to measure the impact of health care on the health of the populations and to improve health and mental health in the long term. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mortality • Morbidity • Subjective Health Indicators • Direct Measures of Health and Social Functioning • Measures of Unmet Need • Global Indicators • Social Indicators • Demographic Indicators