The Mental Health Services Act (MHSA) advances specific values that are intended to fundamentally change our mental health system. These values include:

- A. Recovery and resiliency-based mental health services and supports that emphasize hope, prevention, and personal and family strengths, rather than symptoms and labels;
- B. Culturally and ethnically effective services and supports. Programs and resources that are driven by and responsive to ethnically and culturally diverse communities, which are linguistically appropriate and that counter disparities in access and quality of care;
- C. Community-based care in which people get what they need in the communities of their choice, rather than being taken out of their communities or displaced into long-term care facilities that are far from their natural support systems;
- D. Whatever it takes programs that help persons with the greatest need on a 24-7 basis to avoid the worst outcomes of illness, like repeatedly going to jail or long-term hospitalization;
- E. No-wrong-door policies to ensure that people are not shunted from one place to another in search of the right services and through which physical, mental health and substance-use problems are approached together;
- F. Client-directed, culturally relevant and family-focused services and supports which are voluntary in nature. These include wellness, peer support programs, family respite care, parent partners, alternative crisis houses and promotores de salud;
- G. Efforts that challenge stigma and discrimination associated with mental health symptoms and treatment. Programs and services that advance dignity, social inclusion and protect the rights of clients and family members.
